

AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEW...

CONTACT: Toni Rakestraw

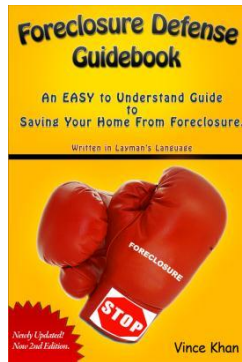

press@consumerdefenseprograms.com

MILLIONS OF AMERICA'S FAMILIES FACING FORECLOSURE

Many Banks Pursuing Wrongful Foreclosure Through Fraudulent Means

Vince will tell your audience:

- Why homeowners must step up and confront the banks
- How homeowners can find out if the bank really has the authority to foreclose
- Why most people in foreclosure are not deadbeats; they are victims of bank fraud and predatory lending
- How making the banks responsible for their illegal actions can help homeowners and the economy
- What steps homeowners can take to find out who really owns their loan
- Where homeowners can go for support and information
- How homeowners can stand up in court for their rights
- Why giant banks are being investigated for foreclosure fraud

Over 100,000 copies in circulation

Foreclosures Increasing in Number

There were 3.8 million foreclosures in 2010, up 2% from 2009; an increase of 23% from 2008, according to RealtyTrac.

Banks Under Investigation

Bank of America, Wells Fargo, and other giant banks are under investigation for robo-signing, fraudulent documents, and predatory lending leading to foreclosure.

Psychological Effects

Getting a foreclosure notice can lead to depression, loss of self-esteem, embarrassment, shame, and feelings of inadequacy for the entire family.

Through the Consumer Defense Programs website, Vince reaches out to those facing foreclosure.

Like so many others, Vince Khan found himself in foreclosure. Instead of giving up, he educated himself on bank fraud. He wasn't convinced that his only options were a loan modification or a short sale.

After spending more than 1000 hours researching, he uncovered many irregularities in the foreclosure process and compiled his findings online for other homeowners. Word quickly spread, and the Foreclosure Defense Guidebook was born.

Now, he leads a movement that inspires people to fight against lender fraud, arming them with information that exposes foreclosure fraud and defends the rights of homeowners.

Website: Consumer Defense Programs www.consumerdefenseprograms.com

Programs available at the website to help and support homeowners through their fight with foreclosure

Foreclosure Defense Guidebook is available at amazon.com or as a free ebook at consumerdefenseprograms.com